FRUIT GROWERS FEEL SQUEEZE

Price Control Will Meet More And More Problems Until Free Markets Take Over — Industry Is Advised To Realize That Honeymoon Is Over And To Plan Accordingly.

(Wellington Jeffers, Financial Editor, The Globe and Mail.)

Price control now does and continuously will bump into problems which would be taken in their stride by free markets. A case in point is summarized in the current news letter of M. M. Robinson, manager of Ontario Food Council, when referring to the protests made by the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association and the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association against "the contemplated increase in the price of wooden containers."

It all started last November when subsidies on wooden containers were discontinued and a ceiling increase of 33 1-3 per cent was granted manufacturers. No compensating adjustment was given producers of fruit and vegetables and the 1945 crop balance and the 1946 crop balance and the 1946 crops had to shoulder the increased cost. On top of that, fruits and vegetables have had sharp declines.

Those production incentive increases do not work a particular hardship if granted to all groups at the same time but when they are awarded one and denied the other, the structure is thrown off balance. To maintain an equitable deal, the price-fixers should have raised the fresh fruit and vegetable prices.

Place Apple Crop Double Last Year

Peach Crop Now Placed At 2,111,000 Bushels — Grape Production Not As Heavy As Predicted.

Ottawa, Oct. 28—The 1946 apple crop now is estimated at 16,739,000 bushels, twice as big as last year's and 20 per cent greater than the 1935-44 average, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said.

Crops in Nova Scotia, Quebec and Ontario are heavier than anticipated last month.

The pear harvest estimate is 867,000 bushels, a 6 per cent increase over the September estimate. Another 6 per cent increase—and more than 50 per cent over the 10-year average—is reported in the plum crop now estimated at 680,000 bushels.

Peach production is 2,111,000 bushels. Grape production was not as heavy as predicted, and the estimate now is 66,216,000 pounds, a reduction of almost 6,000,000 pounds from the estimate last month.

Advertising Rates

Commencing with our issue of next week—November 7th—the new advertising rates, in The Independent, as announced last week will come into effect. This raise in rates, as stated, is brought about by the more than 50 per cent increase in the price of newsprint during the past 18 months and by wage raises and increased costs of all other materials that go into the production of a high-class newspaper.

Display advertising rates in the future to regular advertisers will be 30 cents a columnar inch instead of 25 cents. Transient advertising rates will be 40 cents as compared to the old rate of 35 cents. National advertising will also be increased.

Classified Advertising rates are also rising. There are two reasons for this raise. One, the increased costs and the other due to that fact that on at least 30 per cent of our classified advt. we lose money.

We mean that a person telephones in a classified advt. A 25 cent advt. By the time that advt. is paid for the person has been billed three times. Each billing costs in postage and stationery five cents besides the time of the bookkeeper.

From November 1st, Classified Advertisements will be three cents a word with a minimum of 40 cents, instead of two cents a word and a 25 cent minimum. Moreover we are forced to get tough on collections. Henceforth we will only bill the customer once, free of costs, for a classified advertisement. Every billing after the first one will have 10 cents billing and postage charges added.

Building Boats On Main Street

Did you know that Grimsby had a "shipyard" where boats that will actually float are being built? It is a fact. This "shipyard" is located in the old garage building on Main street in the rear of the Russ block, and is operated by James Fisher.

During the past two years "Jim" in his leisure time has constructed and sold six boats of 14 and 16 foot lengths, to be used with both putt-putt motors and inside motors. He has recently completed a 14 footer that is built entirely of cypress and it was certainly a smart job. Being made of cypress it was very light and one good husky man could pick it up and carry it anywhere. It will be operated by a putt-putt.

Next Week is Education Week in Ontario — Open House For Parents And Citizens at Grimsby High School Next Thursday Night — Meet The Teachers.

(Contributed)

There's a friend of mine . . . I remember he used to complain rather bitterly that his daughter would never believe anything that either of her parents told her . . . But if her teacher told her the same thing—then she immediately took it as gospel truth.

All through her first two or three years at school—teacher after teacher—the same thing kept up . . . So this friend of mine and his wife finally got curious and started going to a few Home and School meetings to find out who these tutorial paragons were . . . Well, they were pretty agreeably surprised . . . They decided they couldn't blame the kid too much for liking her teachers and believing what they told her . . . But the real payoff was that when the child found her parents getting on pretty well with the teachers—well, that seemed to convince her that maybe the old folks weren't quite so dumb as they looked . . . She even began to take their word about a few things now and then, without putting up too much of an argument.

I was reminded of all this a few days ago when asked to draw attention to the fact that next week is "education week" in Canada . . . The dedication of a week to education has a good many purposes . . . but I think one of the most important . . .

1947 Assessment

Town Assessor Charles T. Farrell in the return of his Assessment Roll of the town for 1947 shows that the assessment is $1,664,511, which does not include the assessment yet to be made on the lines of the C.N.R. and the Bell Telephone. This assessment will be made in February but will not raise the grand total to any appreciable extent. The raise of assessment over 1946 when all returns are finally in will not be more than $50,000.

Population is placed at 2,333, with there being 849 males in the town between the ages of 21-60, thus leaving 1,484 females of all ages and males between birth and 21 years of age.

NEW SUPERIOR AT MONASTERY

Rev. Father Josaphat Tymochko, O.S.B.M., Returns To Grimsby — Was Superior When Basilian Fathers Came To Grimsby Four Years Ago — Was Popularly Called Father "Tym".

FATHER "TYM"

Rev. Father Josaphat Tymochko, O.S.B.M., has returned to Grimsby after three years of pastoral work in Montreal to become Superior of the Basilian Fathers monastery here. Father Tymochko is taking the position of Superior left vacant recently by Rev. Father N. Kohut, O.S.B.M., who was called to Rome to become General Counselor for the Order of St. Basil the Great.

Four years ago when the Basilian Fathers came to Grimsby, Father Tymochko was the first superior, and soon became well known to one and all as Father "Tym." In 1943 Father "Tym" was called to the larger pastorate of St. Michael Joseph in Montreal where he has also been Superior of the Basilian Fathers up to this time.

This October the Faculty of Theology in Grimsby obtained a change in staff. The professors for

Special Police On Duty Tonight

Chief of Police W. W. Turner informs The Independent that he hopes that the youth of the town will conduct themselves in a respectful and orderly manner this Halloween night and that the citizens will not see a repetition of the brainless, ruinous performance of last year.

The Chief, like all citizens, is desirous that the young folks have as much fun as possible, but they must keep within the bounds of decency and have respect for other people and their property.

As a precautionary measure Chief Turner is swearing in several special constables who will be on duty, in plain clothes, throughout the evening and the early morning hours.

Parade Facts

Halloween Parade will form up at Grimsby Garage at seven o'clock sharp.

Will parade through Main street headed by the High School Cadet Corps Bugle Band.

Judging will be at the Arena. There are 23 prizes for 23 different types and classes of costumes.

Here's The Reason

Citizens generally have been at a loss, as well as the newspaper publishers, as to why newsprint has been skyrocketing and as to why there is such a scarcity for Canadian newspapers. Well here is the reason, taken from a Dominion government bulletin.

Issue No. 3, Vol. 1 of "Foreign Trade Service", issued by The Department of Trade and Commerce, contains the following very enlightening article.

"Newsprint has become the largest single manufacturing industry in Canada and this country is now the sole supplier for almost half of the world's requirements."

"E. Clarke, Department of Trade and Commerce commodity officer, believes that Canada will be faced with an unprecedented demand for this product for many years."

"Newsprint is probably in shorter supply in markets of the world than any other major commodity, he said. To meet these world requirements, the industry in Canada is currently operating at an all-time high of 99.2 per cent of its rated capacity."

"Canadian production values, during the last quarter of a century, have jumped from $89,000,000 in 1920 to more than $190,000,000 in 1945. Of the total amount of newsprint now produced in Canada, 81 per cent is being exported to the United States and an additional 13 per cent to other world markets."

You will perceive that out of Canada's huge production of newsprint less than six per cent is distributed to Canadian printers and publishers, and the percentage that they are getting they are paying a terrific price for.

Hitch In Plans For New Village

By-law Before County Council Laid Over For Further Consideration — Should Be Annexed To Port Dalhousie.

At the opening of the October sessions of the Lincoln County Council Tuesday in St. Catharines, a petition was presented from the residents of the Corbett's Park subdivision in the Township of Louth and bordering Port Dalhousie for the erection of the area into a police village to be known as Lakeside. Action was deferred until later in the council sessions.

Clerk W. H. Millward informed the council that the petition had been sufficiently signed by the ratepayers in the district and that it only remained for the council to take action on the petition. Prior to the meeting of council, a consultation between county and post office officials determined that a community between Woodstock and St. Mary's in the County of Oxford of 98 persons is listed as Lakeside with the Post Office Department.

The area in question is bounded on the north by Lake Ontario, on the east by the centre line of the unopened road allowance between Port Dalhousie and the Township of Louth, on the south by the

LOCATED AFTER SPAN OF YEARS

Harry House Left Grimsby 42 Years Ago And All Track Of Him Was Lost — Family Found Through Newspaper Publicity — He Died In 1941 In Prince Albert.

Once upon a time there lived in Grimsby three brothers. They were born in Grimsby the sons of Hamilton and Mrs. House. They were named Harry, Arthur and William. The latter still resides in Grimsby on Main street west.

Arthur House went to Ann Arbor Michigan when a young man and became a very successful merchant, passing away in that city some years ago.

Harry House, who was a cripple and used a cane, stayed in Grimsby for some years and was a fruit buyer for the Bowes and Co. firm of Ottawa.

In 1904 he went to Western Canada as a representative for the International Harvester Co. As time went on the brothers in the east lost all track of him. The last actual knowledge that they had of him was in 1913 when J. Orion Livingston, then travelling through Western Canada for a kindred publication of The Independent, The Canadian Sportsman, met Harry in Brandon.

At the time of the death of Arthur efforts were made by William to locate Harry, but to no avail.

Last summer William came to The Independent and discussed the matter with the editor, who then wrote the editor of the Deloraine

It Was A Happy Day In Grimsby

Here is a view of Main Street looking west from the foot of Anderson's hill. It shows the street in the Autumn of 1922—24 years ago—when construction work was in progress excavating, and laying a six inch concrete base for the three inch asphalt top dressing. You will note the ear tracks on ties resting on the road surface. This street paving was a boon to everybody, particularly the housewife. It was the end of dust in dry weather; mud in wet weather and the cursed oil in mid-summer when the road was given a coating of the gooey stuff. This was not Grimsby's first paved street. The concrete road on Mountain Street was laid by Charles H. Bromley in 1914.

This Was A Great Day For Citizens

This train wreck caused a lot of commotion. A lot of people are alive today who were at this wreck, but it is a safe bet that there are only a few of them who will give us the right answer as to where it happened and all the lurid details in connection with it. Tell us who the old gentleman with the whiskers is? Our old friend Francis Hill of Hamilton contributed the photo and he can tell a very descriptive story about this scene.

(Man.) Times, as that was the town that Harry was living in when talked to by Editor Livingston in 1913.

The editor of the Times, a comparatively new arrival in Deloraine did not know Harry personally.

ly, so therefore he published a story in his paper seeking information. That information was forthcoming through a lady of that district who knew the family and sent the story on to them in Prince Albert where they had been residing for a great many years.

Last week William received a letter from Mrs. Harry House containing clippings of Harry's death which occurred on May 5th, 1941, from a sudden heart seizure while talking to a neighbor on the street.

There are many people in Grimsby and district who will remember Harry House. In fact there are still fruit growers in the Fruit Belt of whom he purchased fruit for his Ottawa firm.

This will also be recalled as an era when the most orders given around the house were by the cook.

LOOKS LIKE FRUIT
time in this apple capital of the world, anybody can play. With the ranchers sending up heart-rending appeals for pickers, the course is public.

The currently recognized apple-picking champion is Henry Wooten of Curtis, Ark. A couple weeks ago, in Hood River, Ore., he hung up a record of 379 Bushel boxes in 14 hours. The papers referred to him as "lightning-armed Wooten."

For all I knew, I might be the new champ. Maybe I'd pick 400 boxes a day and become known as "chain reaction Fish."

Now it seems the title is "chain-reaction."

Of course by the time I found the orchard I was going to work in, and the general foreman had found the picking boss, and the picking boss had located a ladder for me and assigned a row of trees, it was nine o'clock. The others had had a two-hour or more headstart on me.

My equipment, beside the ladder and the tree row, consisted of a stack of boxes and a bushel bag that swung over the shoulders and hangs in front, waist-high. It looks like a nosebag for a buffalo, held on top with a canvas bottom held up by ropes. You unhook the ropes when the bag is full, and the bottom lets down into a chute that dumps the apples gently into a box, filling it.

All the picking boss, said they were "colour picking." All the apples up to size 100—100 to a box—had to be red by 25 per cent. or more. Bigger ones were picked any colour. The variety was "Rome Beauties," a baking apple.

Stems had to be left on without breaking off the fruit spur twig. As it turned out, this was quite a trick, largely because of a surprising development in the orchard business. They spray the fruit with some stuff called "Stop Drop." It's a chemical that toughens the stem and keeps the apples from falling.

The pickers are heartily in favour of somebody discovering a spray to be applied this time of year, called "Quick Pick."

I found that I practically could hang my weight on some of those Rome Beauties before they'd give. Par for a day's picking is 100 boxes. Good pickers make it in eight hours; the average duffer takes ten.

At the end of the first hour I had seven boxes, which put me six down to par. I kept gaining throughout the day, though, until

I was slipping behind only three boxes an hour.

At 4:15 the ladder tipped over, and a bushel of apples and I cascaded through the branches.

At 5:30 it was getting dark and we knocked off. By then my average was up to nine boxes an hour. I had picked one and one-half trees. At 12 cents a box, my 63 bushels netted me $7.56, minus $1.50 board and room.

There are about 3,100,000,000 apples to pick in Washington's 1946 bumper crop. I took down 6,302 of them to-day but at that rate somebody is going to have to help if we get this crop to you before Christmas.

They tell me to-morrow will be a better day, if I'm not too stiff and sore.

FRUIT GROWERS
able ceilings at the time they granted increases in the ceilings on commodities the farmer had to buy. Had they done this or had they wiped out ceilings altogether there could have been no comeback. Now, when the manufacturers of wooden containers seek an additional increase the WPTB is placed in a very uncomfortable position. The producers of fruits and vegetables, as a result of heavy production and lessening of consumer demand, find themselves on a falling market. They are the first group to realize what is happening and the first to feel the pinch that will inevitably be encountered by all groups.

"If advances are awarded one group when another group is facing lower prices for the product, the latter group has to sell, the conditions for the squeeze are firmly established.

"The producer organizations accepted the boost in prices of containers a year ago without much protest, as it was understood that ceilings on fresh fruits and vegetables were to be eliminated.

"This intention was blocked by events in the United States so ceilings remained. The growers were left holding the bag.

"Now, what will happen? "Events have moved too swiftly for equitable adjustment as between the two groups.

"Subsidies can be restored, but this would be a reverse spinner.

"Ceilings on fresh fruits and vegetables can be eliminated but such action would afford no relief—nor would increases in existing ceilings.

"Increases in ceilings can be denied the manufacturers but this too may prove a hardship, for undoubtedly the manufacturers are caught in the merry-go-round of increased production costs.

"Certainly WPTB can refuse any increase to the manufacturers until the 1946 crops are marketed. This, at least, they should do, for the fruit and vegetable industry should be permitted to windup the 1946 season on the basis established a year ago.

"Part of the trouble is due to failure of the administrator of wood products to realize that the fruit and vegetable marketing season does not end on Nov. 1, and by the failure of that department to consult the growers last October.

"Fruits and vegetables were among the last products to be subjected to control. They are among the first to sell below established ceilings. They are the first products to be caught in the squeeze that will be experienced by all groups for, eventually, there must be a levelling-out process—a corrective which will restore some sort of balance between groups.

"This office does not anticipate any reduction in acreage in Ontario in 1947, but does look for some shifting in crops with a downward tendency to price levels. Thoughtful growers are giving serious consideration to their 1947 production plans, realizing that all the signs at the moment point to higher production costs. They feel that the two lines on the chart—prices of produce and costs of production—will cross, the former downward and the latter up. This means, a squeeze. Reduction in costs will only come the hard way—by reduced earnings for the primary producer. In other words, there will have to be a shakedown. . . . Our advice to the vegetable industry is to realize that the honey-moon is over and to plan accordingly.

PREPARING FOODS
Pointing out that economy in food values means economy of food itself, the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, advises the scraping and brushing of root vegetables, rather than peeling. Most of the valuable Vitamins and minerals are found just under the skin of vegetables, say the experts.

I Am Inflation

I am inflation. Thousands of people never recognize me. True, I have an ugly mug but I disguise it under a thousand different forms of camouflage. Here is my favorite one, it always goes over big with the men. More money to spend. I chuckle every time I pull that one, it's old as the hills. I've been using it for hundreds of years. Every time there's a war I pull it out of the bag and it works every time. The catch in it is that in war there are fewer civilian goods on the market and people are willing to pay more to get what they get. From then on—it's in the bag. Prices start to rise, everything from a dozen eggs to the price of a winter overcoat gets an upward slant and starts climbing. Butter, eggs, coal, rent, services. The cost of living keeps on rising like the tides of the sea. By the time it doubles everyone is feeling the pinch. The snowball is rolling and nothing short of calamity can stop it. Remember after the last war when Canada's cost of living went to 192%, in July, 1920? I had the time of my life. In this war, I'm not having such a good time, people are getting wise to me. For instance, in World War One, farmers chuckled when they got over $2. for their wheat and big prices for their butter and eggs. They never seemed to get it into their heads that because of the high prices for farm stuff, the town folks had to get more for their goods in order to balance the thing. In 1920, farmers were paying $8 to $12 for boots... $50 to $100 for a suit of clothes... $7 and over for a bag of flour and so on. They just never linked the two up—that their real 'take home' pay was less than it had been under the lower farm prices. Mother's butter and egg money, while it was good, just seemed to vanish entirely when Mary Jane's new coat cost $14 instead of $5. Like her last one, and the prices of Johnny's clothes were almost prohibitive as far as butter and egg money went. The only way mother could balance the books at all was by going without anything new herself. So in the long run, everyone was harder up, no matter where they lived. Since this war, plenty of people are working for all they're worth to run inflation up... but folks are scared of me. I'm the two-headed monster that broke the country after the last war when the bubble burst and de-inflation set in. They'll never forget that I'm the two-headed monster that sent nearly 10,000 decent hard working business men to the wall. I closed factories and shops from Halifax to Vancouver. I made hoboes out of nice boys, while girls with university degrees were working as maids, anything to keep a roof over their heads. Farms are the 'basic industry' of Canada. If eggs go to 90c a dozen—like they did in 1920—the fellow who buys them in the city naturally has to have more wages. If butter hits 90c a pound—like it is right now across the border—the little woman has to ask friend husband for more household allowance and he goes to the boss—and there you are... a notch at a time, like cogs in a wheel that go round and round and always have to come back to the starting point... the root of inflation. Take a man working in a factory. Being human, he wants more money in his jeans at the end of the week so he hits up the boss for more. That's HIS contribution to inflation. His pal in the next town hears about it. He works in a store and thinks he should be getting more, so he goes to HIS boss. That's his contribution to inflation. The boss sees his company headed into the red—so he hits the consumer for more and he's added HIS two cents worth to the spiral... building up now like the Tower of Babel... confusion... strikes... walkouts... sit downs... pickets... and unemployment. An old weather-beaten farmer who had lived through four wars said "it ain't the money we get that counts so much, it's what it will buy in return. A dollar ain't worth a cuss unless it will buy an honest dollar's worth of goods... That the REAL measure of a dollar, son... the real measure." And I agree with the old man. Sometimes I wish my name wasn't inflation... It has such a mean sound.—Edna Jaques.

BOWL
BY Anne Allan
HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

Hello, Homemakers! Once upon a time, witches, hobgoblins and other spirits of either evil or mischief were supposed to appear the last of October and these were feared and appeased. Lights, bonfires and torches were supposed to be hostile to these evil ones. The Jack o'Lantern of to-day are relics of those sacred fires of ancient times.

To this day the spirit of mischief is personified in the youngsters who dress in ghostly costumes to frighten the timid. They ring door bells, and tote away anything they have a mind to take. Entertaining at this time may be inexpensive, and it is a way to bring the children together and keep them out of mischief. (They should be warned of costly damage to property in the neighbourhood.)

The numerous paper decorations on sale at stores can be used in many ways. Guests should be asked to dress in costume as it creates so much fun.

A punch bowl, a stack of plates, cups, forks and spoons, gay orange and black napkins may be arranged on the table along with the serving dishes. This is the time when you can use the old iron pot for a hot dish, the old earthen jug for a cold one, a clean basket for a salad, that sort of thing—protect your table carefully with a pad. Gypsy atmosphere is intriguing for this occasion.

Con Carne makes a substantial, a relish, hot rolls and a good with Frankfurters in long crisp salad, apples and doughnuts rolls, baked for children. A big are favourites salad with strips of bowl of potato, carrot and tiny whole raw turnip, another suggestion, tomatoes is pumpkin tart, or Molasses cake together with cheese crackers put with coffee or sweet can be served.

(All-in-ly sliced raw potatoes, 6 cups thinly sliced mild onions, 1½ cups thill, ¼ tsp. pepper, 5 1½ tbsps. & rolled oats, 3 tbsps. tbsps. flour or scalded milk, 8 butter, 1 qt. cooked side bacon, strips partially

Prepare potatoes and onions. Mix salt, pepper and flour (or rolled oats). Grease a two-quart baking dish. Put an inch layer of potatoes and onions combined in the bottom of baking dish. Sprinkle with part of seasoning and flour mixture and dot with butter. Make three layers. Pour in the hot milk. It should barely show through top layer of potato. Bake slowly in a moderate oven (325 to 350 degs) until the potatoes look translucent (about 1 hour). Arrange strips of partially cooked bacon over the top and bake until bacon is crisp.

Yield: 6 servings.
Note: If desired, onions may be omitted. In their place use thinly sliced carrots, string beans or peas or a mixture of all three.

When short of butter, omit it entirely and use a little bacon dripping.

In place of bacon, top the potatoes with crisp pork sausages. Or omit meat toppings and sprinkle over a cup of grated cheese, scalded shredded codfish or put minced cooked ham between layers of potato.

Brown Six—Ron Wicharuk, White Six—David Aiton, Blue Six—Billy Tennant, Tawny Six—John Mitchell.

The presentation of stripes for second and Senior Sixer is being left for three weeks. Jack Hewitt was given his first year service star. In the competition the Brown Six were just able to nose out the Blue Six.

Many cubs were able to pass their somersault and leap frog test to bring them closer to their first star. Camp-fire games closed the meeting. Apple Day prizes were presented during the evening.

PENNIES That Never Come Back

Every once in a while you hear a man or woman remark: Just see what I got in the city! Isn't it lovely? And you see how much I saved!"

For shame!

You who buy clothing, things to eat and wear, articles for home adornment and comfort—did you ever stop to think what "end of the rope" you are pulling when you spend your money out of town?

Bad pennies are these.

They never come back to show proof of the good for which they were minted—so far as we are concerned—we people of GRIMSBY and vicinity.

Also, do you ever stop to think of the extra cost of the things you buy outside of GRIMSBY, such as the express or freight charges or your own personal transportation fares? Then there's doubtful value, possible loss or injury to merchandise so bought—things to be considered, if you're wise.

Our home merchant carries the load for us, and we should have your support to the last penny spent for no matter what.

For those pennies are the pennies that come back and in inestimable figures—they circulate, create business, add wealth, work and health to your own community.

Remember — it's the pennies that come back that count!

MRS. CONANT TELLS OF HUNGER ABROAD
Mrs. Gordon D. Conant, a delegate to the World Conference of Girl Guides in France, in addressing the Canadian Business and Professional Women's Club of Toronto at luncheon, Tuesday, stressed that the "tired countries of Europe are looking to us for leadership."

In England, Mrs. Conant was the guest of Lady Baden-Powell at Hampton Court Palace, and predicted that the coming winter will be the worst in Britain's history with less food and fuel than heretofore. Meals are obtainable in London and Paris if one can pay for them, she said, and noted that "Switzerland is a garden of milk and honey; and empty hotels are being used to give children from other countries holidays with good food and in happy surroundings." Miss Isabel Stokley presided at the luncheon.

Mrs. Conant is a daughter of Hon. E. D. Smith, Winona.

With the house aglow with shaded lights and fragrant with Autumn flowers, more than two hundred members and friends of Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E., met for afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) MacMill, Depot St.

Our hostess welcomed the guests in her gracious and happy manner, while the regent, Mrs. Buckenham, and Mrs. Wolfenden met the guests in the drawing room. The tea room was an interesting centre and kept the ladies busy. Mrs. W. O. Smith and Mrs. P. V. Smith ushered the guests into the tea room and those serving were, Mrs. Headlop, Mrs. David Cloughley, Mrs. Lloyd Snelinger, Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. John Dunham, Mrs. S. Baptist Church
Sunday, November 24th, and following days the local Baptist Church will celebrate the seventh Anniversary of its organization.
The guest preacher will be Chancellor Gilmour of McMaster University. Dr. Gilmour is one of the youngest, perhaps the youngest college president in Canada and combines in himself the two offices of President and Chancellor of a large and growing university. He is also Chairman of the Canadian Baptist Sunday School Publication Company and was the editor of the Canadian Baptist Hymnary.

On Tuesday evening, November 26th, the Misses Anna, Pauline and Myra Hymmens, musical artists of Kitchener, will present an Anniversary Musicale in the church auditorium.
The Kitchener Record gives the following interesting information concerning these gifted artists. Each of the girls as well as being an outstanding vocalist plays three instruments, the piano, the violin and the pipe organ. Their mother was Anna Zoellner—a member of the family of the musical Zoellners and her father could play practically every instrument. In his youth while living in Germany he was a pupil of the great Franz Liszt. The girls all played in an orchestra directed by their mother's cousin, the late Prof. Theodore Zoellner before they were eight years old. They can trace their musical ancestry for eight generations.

Had To Be Tall For Long Haul!

Five-foot-seven-and-a-half inches tall, lovely Maureen O'Hara has played whole pictures in her bedroom slippers to keep from towering over a five-foot-six leading man while he stood on a dictionary, and it never bothered her.

But in "Sentimental Journey," the new 20th Century-Fox hit showing at the Roxy Theatre the first three days of next week, Producer Walter Morosco has provided her with two leading men, John Payne and Glenn Langan, both of whom are well over six feet tall. And for this she is especially thankful.

In "Sentimental Journey," explains Maureen, "a short leading man would have been out of the question, because he'd have had to carry me across a living room thirty feet long and up a whole flight of stairs. Believe me, it took all of John Payne's six-foot-three inches to do it."

There is always room at the top when it comes to prices.

High School Girl Surrounded By Royalty

A year ago young and pretty Jane McMulkin, Toronto high school student, began to take a keen interest in the members of the Royal Family, particularly Princess Elizabeth. Today she owns scores of books on their lives, has the walls of her room dotted with their pictures, and has filled several scrap books with newspaper clippings on their activities.

Picture shows Jane with one of her scrap books devoted to Princess Elizabeth. Jane's father has promised the family a holiday trip to England some time in the future. It would be the fulfillment of Jane's dearest wish if she could meet Princess Elizabeth during her visit. Who knows? Stranger things have happened.

In the meantime, Jane is putting away her pocket money in Canada Savings Bonds for the promised adventure.

True Optimism

newsboy thinly clad and drenched to the skin by the soaking cold food shivering in a doorway rain, stood in November. First on a cold out and then the other one bare from the pavement for a was lifted and placed against his leg moment little warmth. Every few to get a shiver cry could be minutes he shouted, "Morning paper!" A gentled umbrella, in passing, raincoat a paper, and not stopped to his plight, said, "This ing the boy is pretty hard on kind of weather a cheery smile, you, my lad." Looking up with 't mind this, he replied, "I don't will shine much, mister. The sun's here again." What a philosophy to boy was, and what an older folk!

Another trouble with the world is that too many people want live without working.

Old Dobbin had his faults but the driver of a buggy wasn't bothered by back-seat drivers.

catcher were hard at it all the time.

Well, when the guy saw that this idea was not going down very well with his audience, he went on to complain that the cutting up of the game into nine short innings was also all wrong. "Look at it this way," he said. "We'll suppose that the first three batters all make good safe hits, and fill the bases. Then come along three weak sisters who all strike out, and the inning is at an end, and the three men on the bases get no credit for the good work they have done. No, Sir!", continued this high authority, who as somebody whispered, had never been able to throw a ball in his life. "No, Sir. The side that goes first to bat should stay in till twenty seven men are put out, and then every hit, and every stolen base would really count."

At this point of his lecture some one hinted to this worthy that he himself was "out," or soon would be, but the head man of the Sheltonians, who can both listen and mend shoes at the same time, interfered, and it was agreed to let him talk. And this is what he said next. He said that it was the silliest thing in the world to count the score by runs. "Look here!" he says, and by his time he was getting warmed up with all the changes he was going to make in the sacred book of baseball rules. "One side goes to bat, and with good batting again the three bases are full. Up then comes a specially good king of swat, who smashes the ball for a home run, and up goes the score for that side by four runs. But soon the other side comes in, and one of their batters sends the ball over the grand-stand for a four-bagger; but this time the bases happen to be empty, and only one run is counted. Talk about fair play! No, that kind of rule is not decent honesty. The score should be reckoned by points, not runs. Every man who puts his foot on first base, second base, third base, or the home plate, should count one point for his side. And then you would have a game that was fair in every way, or as nearly fair as any game can be."

Well, that is what this interloper had to say. And you should have heard all the hubbub that was raised. It was like revising the Ten Commandments, or like trying to get Bill Mitchell to address the Chair at a Nomination meeting of the North Grimsby rate-payers. To tell the truth I was not present when this up-start made his speech, but I heard all about it, and I think I have it pretty straight. And if he ever comes into my office with his new gospel, I'll tell him I'm too old to change my mind on anything, or that he had better go to Mayor Bull, who is a good Englishman, and knew the game of Rounders when he was a boy. Perhaps the Mayor will agree to the issuing of an order changing the game of baseball to Rounders again, and begin all over with these new ideas.

the school year 1946-47 are: Rev. Mark Romanovich, D.D.; Rev. Soter Holyk, S.T.D., B.Sc.; and Rev. Basil Wawryk, S.T.D., S.Scr.Lic., all members of the Order of St. Basil the Great. Fathers Romanovich, Holyk and Wawryk received their doctorates from the well known Gregorian University in Rome. Fr. Wawryk specialized in the study of Scripture at the Pontifical Biblical Institute where he earned his licentiate and was later declared "candidatus ad lauream."

The curriculum for the year 46-47 includes the following courses: Fundamental Dogma, Specialis Dogma (de Sacramentis), Moral Theology, Introduction to Sacred Scripture, Exegesis of Sacred Scripture, History of the Church, Ascetical Theology, Liturgy, Oriental Dogmatical Theology, Patrology, Hebrew and Biblical Greek.

In addition one evening class a week is devoted to each of the following: Methodology, the science which describes and evaluates arrangements of materials of instruction, Cases of Conscience where moral problems are solved, and Scholastic Circles where objections are raised and answered on these studied during the week.

portant of all would be its effort to encourage the public in general — and particularly parents — to visit their local schools — learn about the type and trend of modern education — and get better acquainted with the people who design and provide that education for the children of today.

I think most children know and understand their parents, and most parents know and understand their children, much better these days than only a few generations ago. The same thing is certainly true of the relationships between teachers and children. "Education week" aims to complete the triangle by bringing together the teachers and parents. That is why in most communities in Canada, the schools will be holding "open house" on evenings next week, both for parents and for any others who may be interested.

I'd like to leave it to our youthful friends to see that their fathers and mothers know about whatever plans have been made for next week in their particular schools.

There will be Open House next Thursday night at the Grimsby High School at eight p.m.

HITCH IN PLAN

northerly limit of the Lakeshore Road and continuation of Main St. in Port Dalhousie and on the west by the line between lots 1 and 2 of the Broken Front Concession of Louth.

Warden Robert M. Johnston Reeve of Port Dalhousie, stated that the Council of Port Dalhousie had approached the residents of the area last winter with the view to annexation to the village but the idea was "not taken too well at that time." He pointed out that the area was the natural place for Port Dalhousie to expand and in his opinion, "it would have been better if they had acceded to our wishes." Mr. Johnston also informed council that the president of the Ratepayers Association of the area had requested delay on the bylaw establishing the police village for a month due to dispute regarding the name.

Reeve George Wiley of Louth township spoke of the wish of the ratepayers of the sub-division as a step in the right direction and that his council had encouraged them in the move to establish the area as a police village. He also stated that he thought in time the district would become a part of Port Dalhousie. J. D. Taylor, deputy-reeve of Louth, speaking briefly on the subject, pointed out that the residents of the sub-division felt they were not ready for annexation to the village of Port Dalhousie.

The council paid tribute in a minute of silence to the memory of the late Lorne Book, deputy-reeve of Gainsboro township, who passed away last month. Warden Johnston spoke of Mr. Book as an asset to the council. Warm words of welcome were extended to Mr. Book's successor as deputy reeve, Murray Misener, by the warden and council as he took his seat at the council table.

In a letter to the council received Tuesday the Grimsby board of education pointed to the need to hasten the work of the consultative committee appointed to assemble data on the rearrangement of high school districts in the county. The board pointed out that their school is overcrowded and no action is permitted by the department of education for an extension of the school until the report of the committee is presented.

Council was notified by the department of agriculture that the Counties of Lincoln and Welland had been established as a restricted area for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis but due to the shortage of veterinary inspectors it was unlikely that the initial tuberculin tests could be undertaken this year.

The Department of Education, Toronto, notified the council that High School Inspector G. E. Johnson had been appointed to the consultative committee on high school districts for Lincoln together with Mr. S. D. Rendall of the department. The attention of the council was drawn by the Niagara Falls General Hospital to the urgent need for providing for old age and chronically ill patients in the district. Mr. William Hamilton of Bellevue Convalescent Hospital requested an increase of fifty cents a day up to $2.50 per patient from the county.

Following the reading of the correspondence, council adjourned to discuss road and other committee matters.

GRIMSBY 12—Dundas 5

The G.H.S. Seniors rode to their second victory over Dundas on Thursday evening. The weather was perfect for rugby and the field was in good shape. In the first quarter of the game "Powerful" Cole caught a long pass and carried it to the two yard line. From there "Muscles" Ruse carried it over for the score. The second major score came in the second quarter when Don Riches caught a pass from "Muscles" Ruse. Both touchdowns were converted by "Powerful" Cole, to make the score 12-5.

GRIMSBY (bantams) 11, Ridley 1.

A stronger and better organized Grimsby Bantam team took the field against Ridley on Wednesday last to put on an excellent exhibition of rugby-football. Showing a smoothly oiled precision in their running plays, the Grimsby boys fought the St. Catharines team from first to last. Early in the first quarter Ridley took a one point lead. In a short time Grimsby tied it up. In the last quarter LeRoy Zimmerman and "Skip" Smith both scored major tallies to make the final score 11 to 1.

FIRST SCHOOL DENTAL CLINIC OPENS AT WELLAND

Under the joint auspices of the Ontario Division of Red Cross and the Ontario Dental Association, the first Dental Public Health Service in Canada was opened in the Welland-Crowland health unit on Wednesday, October 23. On the official opening day of the service a group of visitors including Hon. Russell T. Kelley, Minister of Health; Hon. Leopold Macaulay, K.C., president of Ontario Division of Red Cross as well as prominent Red Cross officials; and Dr. S. A. MacGregor, chairman of the Ontario Dental Association and fellow members, all visited a dental health clinic in action. Grade 8 of the Crowland school was the scene of a clinic inspection by Dr. Samuel Lee Honey, D.D.A., B.Sc., D.D.P.H., who is head of the Dental Public Health Service. In the course of his duties he would visit all schools in the Welland-Crowland district health unit.

Following the inspection at, the school a civic reception was given the visitors at Holy Trinity Anglican Church where Mr. Macaulay told the audience of the interest of Red Cross in this two year dental survey for the betterment of pre-school and elementary school children. Health Minister Kelley stressed the importance of the results of this service which would be published and its educational value which would be gauged partly by the interest it aroused in other centres. Dr. S. A. MacGregor stressed the significance of the public trend toward dental health. Under this project each child would be examined, a chart made of his dental deficiencies and then steps taken to advise the parents who would turn the child over to the family dentist.

Farmers and fruit growers who are interested in this dual purpose machine would be well rewarded by attending the plowing match and seeing it in operation.

It was bound to happen. Despite warning upon warning kids and ten-agers have persisted in breaking the law and at the same time take their lives and somebody else's life into their own hands. Now the trouble for them is commencing. Missed Pheasants Got A Silver Fox

(St. Catharines Standard)
It was a profitable pheasant day for William Partington Saturday. Likemost hunters, he didn't get any birds, but in the afternoon, he abandoned the pheasants in disgust and went near Smithville hunting for and rabbits. Mr. Partington, a native of St. Catharines and well-known as a baseball pitcher, who now lives at Stratfordville, bagged a beautiful silver fox.

He already has been offered money for it, in addition to the $5 bounty, but he plans to keep it for his wife. The fox was not only over-sized, but was touched with silver. He bagged the Reynard as it flattened back against the ground in a field itself, only 15 yards from him, of stump mark for his shotgun. An easy shot, W. H. Millward said, "not heard of a bounty before. I'm glad for a silver fox in the bag since bounties were instituted three years ago; all foxes shot used to have been red foxes. With so few Partingtons were his brother, Mr. Gerry Burke and Harold Art. of St. Catharines. Shave

New Schedule of Air Mail Rates

Effective November 1, the cost of use of international air mails by the Canadian mailing public is greatly reduced, the saving ranging from 50 to 75 percent, depending on country of destination. It has been made possible by adoption of the quarter ounce as the unit of international air mail weight, instead of the half ounce as was the case previously.

The new schedule of rates applying to this class of mail matter, therefore, will be:

Great Britain and Northern Ireland, 15 cents each quarter ounce, instead of 30 cents per half ounce as previously;

Europe (including Azores, Corsica, Crete, Dodecanese Islands, Gibraltar, Iceland and Malta) 15 cents per quarter ounce instead of 30 cents per half ounce as previously;

Bermuda, West Indies, British Guiana, Mexico, Cuba, and Central America, as well as all countries in South America, 10 cents per quarter ounce, involving no change in existing rates except for South American countries where previous rates were much higher.

Hawaii, 15 cents per quarter ounce instead of 35 cents per half ounce as previously.

Guam, Philippines, China, all Africa, all Asia and all Oceania, including Australia and New Zealand, 25 cents per quarter ounce instead of the much higher half ounce rates which previously prevailed for these countries.

It is pointed out, of course, that these new rates are separate and apart from use of the Canada Air
